

Daily Democrat.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
HAROLD, HUGHES & CO.

OFFICE—

South side Green Street, two doors below the Customhouse.

W. E. HUGHES, State Printer.

SATURDAY, JUNE 25, 1864.

NOTICE TO CITY SUBSCRIBERS.
The Daily Democrat delivered by carriers throughout the city will hereafter be at the rate of twenty cents per week.

Important Notice.
Owing to the increased expense of every article used in the printing business, and an advance of twenty-five per cent, on the expense of composition, we are compelled to increase the cost of the Daily Democrat. Hereafter the Daily, by mail, will be seventy-five cents per month, or four dollars for six months, or seven dollars per year—always in advance.

CITY NEWS.
THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION WILL MEET AT Louisville, June 28, 1864.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS—Friday, June 24—Jas. Walker and Jessie Davis, robbing Mary Malver of $1150; held in $900 each to answer in the Circuit Court.

Wm. Sullivan surrendered himself for the murder of Jas. Hale, on Fourth street, between Main and the river, yesterday evening; continued until to-morrow morning.

Michael McHugh, Jas. Nichols and Nancy Calloway, stealing fifteen barrels of salt from Mr. Smith; discharged.

Fred Hattan (f. m. c.), drunkenness and disorderly conduct; fined $200 for six months.

William Florence, drunkenness and disorderly conduct; fined $5.

Nellie Sly, drunkenness and disorderly conduct; she is an escape from the workhouse; discharged.

Eliza Reynolds, drunkenness and disorderly conduct; fined $5.

C. M. McClair was sworn in as an Attorney.

A. P. Akin, drunkenness and disorderly conduct; fined $5.

Alexander Wade (f. m. c.), a peace warrant by Johnson (f. m. c.); own bond in $300 for six months.

Joseph Martin, suspected felon; bail in $900 for one year.

HOOTEL HOTELS—This crime is on the increase in our city. One has but to visit the Police Court from day to day to be convinced of the fact. During the past week not a day has passed that the criminal's bench has not been crowded. On Wednesday night a man by the name of Rice, from Cincinnati, arrived at the St. Cloud Hotel, where he put up for the night. Another man by the name of Joe Martin arrived at the same hotel and registered himself as from Ohio. During the night Rice was taken sick and left his room. Upon his return he missed his pocket-book containing $165. Martin left the hotel before day and went to the Bowles House, on Market street, where he procured a room. While there he robbed a man by the name of Daley, with whom he roomed, of $16, after he left. He was before the Police Court yesterday as a suspected felon, and was held in $900 for one year's good behavior.

MARRIAGE LICENSES—Marriage licenses have been issued to the following persons by the Clerk of the Jefferson County Court from the 18th to the 24th inst.

Adam Steele and Anna Hobson, Jr.; Fred. A. Tamm and M. Louise Hartenstein, wife of Wm. W. Hartenstein, of Vandalia; F. D. Bascom and Mary A. Cramton; Marshal Merritt and Hester Kennedy; Henry T. Jefferson and Julia S. Daniel; Solomon and Anna C. B. Bink; U. E. Flook and Laura May; Ulrich Siegenthaler and Mary A. Ulrich; Charles and Anna F. Fink; A. F. Fink; John Walter and Margaret Mann; Michael Ryan and Margaret Casey.

M. Dorem and Mary D. McDowell; M. Dorem and Mary D. McDowell.

W. W. Hartenstein and Anna Hobson, Jr.; Fred. A. Tamm and M. Louise Hartenstein, wife of Wm. W. Hartenstein, of Vandalia; F. D. Bascom and Mary A. Cramton; Marshal Merritt and Hester Kennedy; Henry T. Jefferson and Julia S. Daniel; Solomon and Anna C. B. Bink; U. E. Flook and Laura May; Ulrich Siegenthaler and Mary A. Ulrich; Charles and Anna Fink; A. F. Fink; John Walter and Margaret Mann.

NEWS.—There was only a moderate amount of business transacted at the barracks yesterday. Seventy convalescents from different points were received, together with four deserters from Cincinnati and Indianapolis. The transfers were one hundred and fifty-eight men and recruits to their regiments, and forty-eight deserters sent off in irons, as follows: Thirty-seven to Nashville, three to Lexington and eight to Cairo.

WOOD'S THEATRE—LAST NIGHT OF THE MINSTRELS—This evening Arlington, Kelly & Leon's minstrels make their last appearance in our city. During the past two weeks they have been greeted with the largest and most fashionable audience that have assembled in Wood's theater this season. The bill selected for their closing night is an excellent one, and the house will no doubt be crowded.

OUT IN THE WORLD—By T. S. Arthur: Carlton, N. Y.—We are indebted to F. A. Cram for a copy of the above named book. T. S. Arthur is too well known as an author to need any recommendation. His name itself is an introduction to his book sufficient to cause every one to desire a more intimate acquaintance.

THE TRAIN which arrived from Frankfort yesterday brought one hundred and ten privates and non-commissioned officers and thirty-one officers belonging to the rebel army as prisoners. They were sent to the military prison, where they will be confined until sent forward for exchange.

THE TRIAL OF CAPTAIN MORRIS.—We have already mentioned that Captain Morris had been tried by court-martial here, and that they failed to agree as to his case. The Captain has been sent to Lexington, where a new court will be convened to investigate his case.

ARREST OF DESERTERS.—Yesterday the patrol guard arrested Abraham and John Graham, of company G, Twenty-eighth Kentucky, as deserters. They were sent to Barracks No. 1, where they will be confined until tried by court martial.

THE RESIGNATION of Capt. W. S. Holden, of the Twenty-third Kentucky, and for a long time Inspector of the Post, has been accepted. Capt. Holden has been an efficient officer, and his loss will be severely felt.

MISS JANE FERGUSON, who was tried and convicted here some time since, was yesterday sent to Lexington, Ky., where the sentence of the court will be pronounced upon her.

J. West, one of the attentive messengers of the Adams & Co.'s Express, has our thanks for files of Nashville papers furnished in advance of the mail delivery.

THANKS to Lewis Kere, messenger of Adams & Co.'s Express, for Cincinnati papers died in New York city on the 20th.

GUERRILLAS ON THE OHIO. Their Designs and Movements.

It is simply nonsensical to attempt to disguise the fact that there are several gangs of guerrillas at present in the border counties of Kentucky, committing all kinds of outrages, and as they have been so far unopposed by any Federal force, they are having things altogether their own way.

On Tuesday last a gang, whose number we did not learn, entered Brandenburg, robbed the citizens, fired on the steamer Shingling as she passed up, and recruited a number of men for the rebel service. They remained in the town until the next day, and are said to have belonged to Capt. Jesse's command.

On Tuesday about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, some 250 guerrillas, under command of Capt. Jones and Major Walker Taylor, left Cloverport, where they had been committing their outrages, and marched for Hawesville, where they arrived about half-past 7 the next morning, stopping outside the town and encamping, where they remained until after dinner.

The same party had previously visited Stephensport, where they captured Col. Ben Allen, who commanded the militia. He was secured and taken away, being treated in the meantime with the greatest indulgence. At Stephensport they robbed the stores and citizens, and carried off a number of horses.

They entered the town of Cloverport about 1 o'clock on Wednesday, broke open the stores and helped themselves to what they wanted, stole a number of horses, enlisted a number of recruits, and then left for Hawesville, to which place a portion of the gang had previously been sent.

The guerrillas had thins all their own way in Hawesville, and robbed and raged indiscriminately. They broke open stores and took such goods as suited them, stole the best horses to be found in the town, and acted the bandit generally. In the evening they left Hawesville, they stated, and as is believed, for Owensboro, which town they declared they intended to attack, capture and burn. In this arrangement we think they will be disappointed, and if they should attack the town we will receive the soundest kind of a whipping, as there is a sufficient Federal force situated there for its defense.

The Provost Marshal soon made his appearance and ordered the negroes to be admitted. Woodward ordered his men to arm themselves. They quickly seized their guns, drew up in line of battle, with fire to any one who dared to enter. In that hostile attitude they kept negroes, Powers and the Provost at bay. The negroes finally fell back in good order, changed their base, and were securely entrenched in the county jail, under locks and bars. The jail keys were taken in hand. The negroes were not at the gate of the courtyard by Colonel Woodward, of the State Guard, whose force is quartered at the courthouse, and were forbidden to enter.

The Provost Marshal soon made his appearance and ordered the negroes to be admitted.

Woodward ordered his men to arm themselves.

They quickly seized their guns,

drew up in line of battle, with fire to any one who dared to enter. In that hostile attitude they kept negroes, Powers and the Provost at bay. The negroes finally fell back in good order, changed their base, and were securely entrenched in the county jail, under locks and bars. The jail keys were taken in hand. The negroes were not at the gate of the courtyard by Colonel Woodward, of the State Guard, whose force is quartered at the courthouse, and were forbidden to enter.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Affairs at Hawesville.

The affair of the Science No. 2 being shot into at Hawesville, has been variously given, and in order that our readers may have a true statement of the same, we condense the following from the Owensboro Monitor: On Sunday last, a score of negroes who had been secretly recruited by one Powers and a few associates, appeared in the streets of Hawesville, Ky., preparatory to their shipment to Owensboro. The steamer Science happened to land at the wharf to discharge some freight, the negroes were ordered aboard, and aboard they went. A Mr. Beauchamp attempted to arrest a negro belonging to him while yet on the shore, but the negro hastened on the boat, and was fired at by Beauchamp. Instantly a number of pistols were discharged in the direction of the boat, from the midst of a crowd of excited citizens on the shore, injuring no one on the boat, but riddling the steamer pretty badly.

A man named Coon, associated with Powers, shot into the crowd of citizens from the boat, severely wounding Mr. Charles DeLay, son of Dr. Delay of Union County, Ky. The ball entered his back and passed through the body. It is feared that he will recover.

The boat escaped with her salve cargo, and late in the afternoon arrived at Owensboro, where the negroes disembarked. Powers marched them to the courthouse square, where they were met by a large crowd of citizens, who made a very warlike display at the head of the column, with a cocked hat revolver in hand. The negroes were not at the gate of the courtyard by Colonel Woodward, of the State Guard, whose force is quartered at the courthouse, and were forbidden to enter.

The same party had previously visited Stephensport, where they captured Col. Ben Allen, who commanded the militia. He was secured and taken away, being treated in the meantime with the greatest indulgence. At Stephensport they robbed the stores and citizens, and carried off a number of horses.

They entered the town of Cloverport about 1 o'clock on Wednesday, broke open the stores and helped themselves to what they wanted, stole a number of horses, enlisted a number of recruits, and then left for Hawesville, to which place a portion of the gang had previously been sent.

The guerrillas had thins all their own way in Hawesville, and robbed and raged indiscriminately. They broke open stores and took such goods as suited them, stole the best horses to be found in the town, and acted the bandit generally. In the evening they left Hawesville, they stated, and as is believed, for Owensboro, which town they declared they intended to attack, capture and burn. In this arrangement we think they will be disappointed, and if they should attack the town we will receive the soundest kind of a whipping, as there is a sufficient Federal force situated there for its defense.

The Provost Marshal soon made his appearance and ordered the negroes to be admitted.

Woodward ordered his men to arm themselves.

They quickly seized their guns,

drew up in line of battle, with fire to any one who dared to enter. In that hostile attitude they kept negroes, Powers and the Provost at bay. The negroes finally fell back in good order, changed their base, and were securely entrenched in the county jail, under locks and bars. The jail keys were taken in hand. The negroes were not at the gate of the courtyard by Colonel Woodward, of the State Guard, whose force is quartered at the courthouse, and were forbidden to enter.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail keys, procured a blacksmith, who, by cutting away some bolts, opened the door and liberated the negroes, who repaid to headquarters and duly enlisted soldiers of the United States, and were again ready to jail. Some of Powers' associates went over to Cannelton and made an effort to raise a force to "clean out" Hawesville for the indignity offered to their fellow citizens of African descent, as they were about to depart to the land of the free and home of the brave, but were not successful.

The Provost Marshal, not being able to secure the jail

AMUSEMENTS.

WOOD'S THEATER.

ARLINGTON, KELLY & LEON'S

MINSTRELS.

Saturday Evening, June 25th, 1864.

Last night of the engagement of this favorite company.

THE BLACK STATURE, as played only by this company artists. The roar of laughter and rounds of applause were given to the representation as it closed, pronounced it was the best of the season.

Arlington in his ESSENCE OF OIL VIRGINITY.

The Piano used by this Company is from the well-known store of Tripp & Clegg, and is one of Webster's best.

S. COOKE, Agent.

EDWIN KELLY, Manager.

LOUISVILLE THEATER

Will be opened on

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 27th, 1864.

Engagement of the Renowned

RAVELL,

now

Martinetti & Marsetti Troupe,

Consisting of the following great artists:

Julian Martinetti, Mme. Julia Lehman, Christian Lehman, Mme. Julia Lehman, Mad. P. Martinetti, Mme. Julia Lehman, August Lehman, Mme. Julia Lehman, Mme. Julia Lehman, J. C. Franklin, Mme. Julia Lehman, C. W. Clegg, Mme. Julia Lehman, Mme. Julia Lehman, and Mme. Julia Lehman.

AND

A Grand Corps de Ballet.

BASKET PICNIC

—OF THE—

Trades' Assembly, of Louisville

—AT—

Spring Garden,

On Monday, June 27th, 1864.

TICKETS FIFTY CENTS.

COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS.

G. A. Reid, G. D. Hartigan, John O'Day,

D. R. Elliott, J. H. Green, ——

Members of the different Trades' Unions will meet at their Hall, at 7 o'clock A. M.

For the benefit of the Society of Sibley and Green, Preston and Jefferson, Third and Jefferson, Sixth and Jefferson, and Eleventh and Market, during the day.

Old-Fashioned Barbecue.

ALL ARE INVITED TO HAY'S SPRING, ON SATURDAY, June 25th, at an old-fashioned barbecue.

There will be a good table and fine music.

For the benefit of the Society of Sibley and Green.

Jefferson, and Eleventh and Market, during the day.

THOMPSON & CO.,

DRAPERS IN FUR

WINES, BRANDIES, WHISKIES, &c.

IMPORTERS OF THE CELEBRATED

VERZENAY CHAMPAGNE,

From Delbeck & DeBerghe's, Reims.

AND DEALERS IN

CALIFORNIA WINES.

OLD BLUE HOUSE,

No. 79 Fourth Street,

Between Main and Market,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

W. M. MORRIS. EDW. HOGG. A. GOWDY

WM. W. MORRIS & CO

405 MAIN ST., 105 CHAMBERS ST,

LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

Furnishing Goods,

Sutlers' Goods,

Stationery,

Notions,

AT EASTERN PRICES.

405 Main St., bet. Fourth and Fifth

REAPERS AND MOWERS.

Hubbard's Light Mower;

Hubbard's Medium Mower;

Kentucky Clipper;

Kentucky Harvester;

Kentucky Broad-gauge Reaper.

—ALSO—

HOPS HAY BAKES;

GUN CANNES;

CORN SHELLERS;

CUTTING SPERS;

CIDER MILLS;

SUGAR MILLS AND EVAPORATORS;

EIGHT-HORSE THRESHERS;

SCYTHES, SNATHS, CHADLES, &c.

For sale low.

Farmers, look to your interest and examine our stock before buying.

SHERMAN & BRO.,

61 Main St., between Sixth and Seventh, Louisville, Ky.

COOK & GOODMAN,

No. 402 Third St., bet. Jefferson and Green,

KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND A FULL SELC-

K OF WATCHES, DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, SILVER and PLATEDWARE.

Also a large assortment of Optical, Optical Instruments, Spectacles, Opera Glasses, Field Glasses, Telescopes and Microscopes, to the public.

His fine assortment of Spectacle Glasses.

Watches and Jewelry repaired and warranted, deo

COOK & GOODMAN.

J. W. COOK,

OPTICIAN,

402 THIRD STREET, BETWEEN JEFFERSON and GREEN.

WE ARE NOW MANUFACTURING AND KEEP-

ING A LARGE ASSORTMENT AT

W. M. WOODS' Paper Store,

Third St., above Main.

R. E. MILES'

SADDLE, HARNESS AND

TRUNK Manufactory,

211 Main street, bet. Second and Third,

Hamilton's Building, 355 Main Street,

DEALERS IN GOLD, SILVER, PREMIUM and Uncurant Money, Rocks, Bonds and Government Bonds.

—ALSO—

Silver Pearl Soap no Humpug.

THIS DESERVE THE PRAISE OF BEING THE

ALL THE POPULAR SOAP COMBINE-

TED, all the soaps of the best hand y soaps, with a variety of more than 100 per cent. in the price.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality.

For the price of 100 per cent. in the price, we

can give 100 per cent. in the quality

Daily Democrat.

OFFICIAL.

LIST OF LETTERS

REMAINDER UNCLAIMED IN THE POSTOFFICE
At Louisville, Ky., June 24, 1864.

To obtain any of these letters the applicant must call at the Post Office and give the date of issue, and pay one cent for advertising.

EE DELIVERY OF letters, &c., at the post office, and the SECUREMENT of the following RULES.

1. Letters are to be plainly to the street and number,

2. HEAD letters with the wirt's Postoffice and Name, street and number, and the date of issue.

3. Letters are to be delivered to the addressee, unless the wirt directs otherwise.

4. Letters are to be delivered to the post office, or city, whose special address may be given, or to be marked in the lower left hand corner with the word "POSTAGE PAID."

5. Pla the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, without interfering with the address.

6. A REQUEST for the RETURN of a letter to the wirt, if unclaimed within 30 days, or less, is to be placed across the left hand end of the envelope on the face of the letter, and a small sum pre-paid rate of postage, with the name of the addressee, is to be paid to the wirt, when the letter is delivered to the wirt. —See sec. 28, law of 1862.

LADIES' LIST.

APPERSON Miss Carrie 2

APPERSON Miss Carrie 2

APPERSON Miss Sarah B

APPERSON Miss Anna

APPERSON Mrs. Anna

APPERSON Miss Terese 0

APPERSON Mrs. Anna

APPERSON Miss Anna